Weekly Science Tasks

Read 'Parts of a Plant' on page 1 of your CGP Science Study book. Your task is to draw your own plant and label the different parts. Make sure to include detail of each part of the plant.

Weekly History Tasks

Read 'Ancient Egyptians' on pages 2 and 3 in your CGP History Study Book and complete 'Ancient Egyptians' on pages 2 and 3 in your CGP History Activity Book

Further Learning Opportunities

For the next four weeks the project is to focus on growing plants.

Refer to the PLANTS folder, which is resourced alongside this weekly grid, to get more information in how to go about growing your own plant. The PowerPoint is good starting point.

Begin with simple mustard seeds or sunflower seeds. During the project, document the events by doing the following where possible:

- Write a plant daily diary to explain what you have done/what's happened to the seed/plant so far.
- Take photos of the seeds germinating, sprouting and growing.
- Ensure you look after the plant by watering at the correct times with the right amount of water – get an adult to help you monitor this.
- Draw pictures of the plant growing at different stages.
- Do some research and write facts about the plant you have chosen to grow.
- Design a poster showing other children how to grow a plant.
- Create some artwork based on a 'Summer Scene' featuring your chosen plant.
- Write a story about a child who decided to grow a plant – what happened? Think along the lines of the Jack and the Beanstalk fairy tale.
- Design a word search using different plant names.

NSPCC Assembly

The NSPCC have produced a virtual assembly featuring content from their Speak out Stay safe (SOSS) programme as well as tailored and relevant content related to the current COVID-19 pandemic.

The assembly kicked off with a special message from TV presenters Ant & Dec and a special appearance from comedian and children's books author David Walliams, followed by advice and support from our Speak out Stay safe team and a Q&A session with Vicky Ford MP, Minister for Children and Families, featuring questions submitted by children from around the country.

We strongly encourage all Upper School pupils to watch the assembly on YouTube through the following link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=qm0kccbZpYY>

Additional Learning Resources

The BBC is providing additional educational programmes. There are videos, quizzes, podcasts and articles that appear on BBC Bitesize daily via the BBC iPlayer, red button, BBC Four and BBC Sounds. New Maths and English lessons are also available every day for all ages.
